

Commvault Showcases Leadership in Data Protection and Information Management at Microsoft's Inaugural Ignite Event

May 1, 2015

TINTON FALLS, N.J., May 1, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Commvault \(NASDAQ: CVLT\), a leader in enterprise data protection and information management, today announced it is proudly showcasing its latest data management and disaster recovery solutions at the Microsoft Ignite event being held May 4-8, 2015 at the McCormick Place Convention Center in Chicago.

A strategic partner of Microsoft for more than 15 years, Commvault's seamless integration of its software with Microsoft's products provides customers the highest level of data protection, recovery, search, and archive capabilities today. To help show attendees learn how to optimize their existing Commvault & Microsoft environments, the company has a number of unique opportunities planned at Ignite next week:

Commvault Executives Speak at MS Ignite

Commvault company executives will be making keynote and show floor theatre presentations during the following speaking sessions on May 7th:

- Windows and Microsoft Azure Centric Heterogeneous Data Management
Speakers: Randy De Meno and Chris Van Wagoner
- How to Operationalize Recovery and Disaster Recovery in Azure
Speakers: Rob Kaloustian and Paul McClure
- Azure and Data Management Best Practices
Speaker: Randy De Meno

For a full agenda and list of sessions and times, attendees can visit: <http://ignite.microsoft.com/Agenda#fbid=jbyWu7uR1AV>

Commvault Hosts "Lab-like" Demos of its Data Management Solutions at Booth #235

Commvault product experts will also be hosting in-lab sessions at booth #235 to showcase its integration with Microsoft Azure, Office 365, Exchange, SQL Server, and SharePoint and answer some of today's toughest data management questions, including how to reduce application recovery times and how to migrate workloads to other platforms without re-architecting environments.

Innovative New Applications to Help Visitors Calculate the Value of Commvault

Visitors at the booth will also be among the first to demo Commvault's innovative set of value calculators, allowing them to input their own data to see how Commvault solutions stack up against competitor offerings to drive costs down, improve efficiencies and accelerate time to value. Participants can assess the value of Commvault's solutions across different solution sets and IT functions, including VM management, desktop and laptop protection, e-discovery and snapshot management.

Integrated Backup Appliance Offers a Purpose-built, Pre-configured Data Protection Solution

Commvault will also be showcasing its new integrated backup appliance, which delivers a purpose-built, pre-configured data protection solution. Offered in different scalable configurations, this all-in-one backup appliance integrates a validated, performance-optimized configuration, pre-installed into a comprehensive backup solution that saves customers time and money.

Commvault Debuts Refreshed Brand Image at MS Ignite

Commvault will begin unveiling its new corporate brand identity, which includes a new logo, a more vibrant color palette, messaging and image scheme that better reflects the company's overall vision. Visitors to the Commvault booth will be among the first to experience the "new Commvault."

Get ready to Jam at "Ignite Rocks!" Party

As a platinum sponsor of MS Ignite, Commvault will be hosting the Ignite Rocks! party at the House of Blues Chicago on Monday, May 4th from 9:00pm to 12:00am CDT.
