October 13, 2015

-- Commvault experts to lead multiple Breakout Sessions -
-- In-booth Tweet Up to address critical data management topics --

BARCELONA, Spain, Oct. 13, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Directly addressing the needs of companies seeking trusted advice and counsel on critical data protection and information management issues, Commvault (NASDAQ: CVLT), today announced a full schedule of expert breakout, one-on-one, and social engagement sessions for VMworld Europe attendees providing real-time advice at the VMworld 2015 Europe conference, held October 12-14 in Barcelona.

A leader in enterprise data protection and information management

"Companies today recognise that data is the lifeblood of innovation," said Philip van der Wilt, Vice President, Sales, Commvault EMEA. "They see cloud alternatives, exploding volumes of data, and the need to modernize legacy systems. Commvault is focused on helping companies make this journey to a more services-led and cloud-centric businesses approach to address these demands. Together with our partners, we are committed to helping customers find new ways to manage data as a strategic asset to deliver increased business value. We look forward to engaging with all the attendees at VMworld Europe in Barcelona to discuss these elements."

Commvault Breakout Sessions at VMworld 2015

Commvault Workload Portability Tweet Up

A Commvault Tweet Up at VMworld Europe will be held in the Commvault Booth P300 on the show floor on Tuesday afternoon at 15.30 (Central European Time). The Workload Portability Tweet Up will discuss key industry trends and the importance of workload portability (across physical, virtual & cloud), disaster recovery in the cloud and the need for streamlined dev/test, including cloud provisioning, management, reporting and log analytics. The session will run in parallel with Robbie Wright's live presentation (Session #INF6250) and cover questions raised in real time during the presentation for discussion either live in the audience, or at the Commvault booth. Join the conversation at #CVTweetUp.
